This instruction implements AFPD 40-3, Family Advocacy Program (FAP). It describes the responsibilities of FAP agencies and staff. It also outlines procedures for administering the FAP. This instruction applies to all military and civilian personnel and their dependents entitled to receive care in a military facility as specified in AFI 41-115, Medical Programs and Benefits. This instruction directs collecting and maintaining information subject to the Privacy Act of 1974 authorized by 10 United States Code 8013. System of Records F168 AF SG B applies. Send comments and suggested improvements on AF Form 847, Recommendation for Change of Publication, through channels, to HQ AFMOA/SGPS.

SUMMARY OF REVISIONS

This publication substantially revises AFR 160-38, Family Advocacy Program.

1.18. Department of Defense Dependent Schools (DoDDS): A DoDDS representative serves on the base FAC at overseas locations and at locations with Continental United States (CONUS) Section VI schools. The school administration ensures that assigned staff receive annual training to help them identify and report special needs children and incidents of child abuse to the EFMPO and FAO. In overseas areas where the Air Force provides MRS, the EFMPO requests help from DoDDS to ensure that MRS services are, in fact, provided. 1.19. Active Duty Members and Civilian Employees-Mandated Reporting: All active duty members and civilian employees of the Air Force must report all incidents of suspected family maltreatment to the FAO. All military-related child care and medical providers will be trained regarding the indicators of abuse and neglect, and on the procedures for reporting family maltreatment to the FAO.
Chapter 2

PROGRAM AND CASE MANAGEMENT

2.1. The Family Advocacy Program. Enhances Air Force readiness by ensuring that family problems do not hinder the performance of military personnel. The Program provides proactive services to Air Force personnel and their families by identifying, measuring, and treating incidents of child and spouse maltreatment, and by identifying and supporting family members with special medical or educational needs.

2.2. Program Components. The FAP offers three principal services: outreach, services to special needs family members through the Exceptional Family Member Program, and family maltreatment intervention. Management teams oversee the outreach and maltreatment components of the FAP in consultation with the installation FAC. The Program is administered through five organizational areas (as specified in DODI 6400.1, Family Advocacy Program, 23 June 92): Prevention, Direct Services, Administration, Evaluation, and Training.

2.2.1. Outreach. The FAP offers primary prevention services to all Air Force personnel and secondary prevention services to at-risk groups and families. Family Advocacy Staff provide prevention services at all installations. The installation FAC establishes an Outreach Program Management Team. The Team, chaired by the Family Advocacy Outreach Manager (FAOM) or the Family Advocacy Intervention Specialist (FAIS) (when there is no FAOM), consists of a management team of base and community members who direct proactive maltreatment prevention programs.

2.2.1.1. The OPMT:

- Establishes a working relationship with installation and community agencies that provide services to military families, and shares information with these agencies about available community education and life skills training resources.
- Conducts yearly community outreach needs assessments.
- Determines how to intervene in situations that may provoke family maltreatment or cause handicaps in children.
- Establishes primary maltreatment prevention services.
- Establishes secondary maltreatment prevention services for adults, teens, and children.
- Develops an annual Outreach Program Management (OPM) plan with related action plans.
- Develops appropriate training programs for Commanders and First Sergeants, medical and dental staff, SPs, AFOSI, Family Support Center staff, child and youth center staff, family home day care providers, and other base helpers and volunteers.
- Establishes outreach program files, including forms and reports, following HQ AFMOA/SGPS guidelines.
- Develops a formal evaluation process to monitor outreach programs and resources.

2.2.2. The Exceptional Family Member Program. Please see Chapter 3 for more information about this program.
2.2.3. Family Maltreatment Intervention. The Family Maltreatment component of the FAP provides identification, evaluation, and treatment services through a Family Maltreatment Case Management Team. This Team establishes and monitors family maltreatment programs and services. The FAO chairs the FMCMT under the guidance of the FAC. The FMCMT consists of medical, investigative, and other appropriate base and community agency representatives as determined by the FAC.

2.2.3.1. The Family Maltreatment Case Management Team:

- Meets at the call of the FAO, or at least monthly.
- Ensures all reports of suspected family maltreatment are investigated within 24 hours.
- Establishes procedures for the Unit Commander to follow in offering protective services to family members.
- Determines the status of all cases.
- Ensures the preparation and submission of DD Form 2486, Child/Spouse Abuse Incident Report, RCS: DD-FM&P(W)1738 and AF Form 2528, Family Maltreatment Data, (when applicable) according to FAP Standards on all maltreatment reports.
- Prepares and submits required Department of Defense forms and reports.
- Identifies family maltreatment trends, using available data on families. Also identifies at-risk groups requiring prevention services.
- Reviews all open family maltreatment cases at least once every three months to ensure that the case management plan is current. Also reviews substantiated sexual abuse cases monthly.
- Establishes procedures for hospitalizing victims of family maltreatment when no alternatives are available.
- In cases of child sexual abuse:
  - Ensures the child undergoes as few interviews as possible.
  - Considers using audio or videotaping.
  - Monitors the child's safety.
  - Orders medical examinations of the victim when recommended by medical, legal, or investigative personnel.
  - Prescribes a sexual abuse treatment program for child sexual abuse offenders who are on active duty.
  - Recommends to the Commander reassignment of the abuser when required treatment services are not available in the local area.
  - Reports child or spouse deaths due to maltreatment, ensures accurate and timely (24 hour) reporting to HQ AFMOA/SGPS and the MAJCOM/SG within 24 hours.
  - Refers issues and recommendations to the FAC when the FMCMT cannot resolve them, or for required actions beyond the authority of the FMCMT.

2.3. Sexual Abuse Special Considerations: In child sexual abuse cases, the FAP makes special efforts to protect the alleged victims and to preserve evidence of a possible crime. To accomplish these goals, the base FAC establishes a Child Sexual Maltreatment Response Team.
2.3.1. The Child Sexual Maltreatment Response Team: Consists of the FAO, the AFOSI agent, the JA, and optional representatives from other agencies that have child protection responsibilities. This multidisciplinary team plans investigations of suspected abuse, simultaneously minimizing the number of interviews children undergo while effectively gathering pertinent information. CSMRT members can also be members of the FMCMT. The CSMRT takes coordinated action within 72 hours of any report of child sexual abuse, without waiting for a scheduled meeting. The CSMRT follows published guidelines, including FAP Standards.

2.3.2. Offender Treatment: Due to prohibitions on the treatment of paraphilias, the FAP will not provide treatment to sexual offenders to modify deviant sexual arousal patterns. FAP and MTF personnel may provide other services to offenders as long as the services don’t focus on the deviant arousal patterns. The FMCMT can identify resources available in the region to treat paraphilic behavior, and must closely coordinate victim and offender treatment to ensure safety of all concerned. Providers must not commit MTF Supplemental Care funds to treat active duty offenders for paraphilia unless specifically authorized to do so by the DBMS.
Chapter 3

EXCEPTIONAL FAMILY MEMBER PROGRAM

3.1. The EFMP. Identifies eligible Department of Defense families with exceptional medical or educational needs, helps those families to obtain required services, and ensures those families have access to necessary services if reassigned. The Program helps the family to effectively find and use appropriate medical, social service, and educational programs.

3.2. The EFMP Team. Under the supervision of the EFMPO, the EFMP Team:

- Develops educational programs to reduce handicapping conditions and associated medical and educational needs.
- Develops liaison with agencies, services and medical specialists to provide early identification and referral. Actively supports or develops Child Find programs, as specified in Public Law (PL) 99-457 and Department of Defense Directives and Instructions.
- Ensures that EFMP referral cases receive evaluation.
- Opens EFMP cases and initiates Assignment Limitation Code Q action after identifying exceptional needs. Provides the EFMP member with a copy of AF Form 2523, Exceptional Family Member Program, as an informational statement and to clarify services provided to military families. Has member complete AF Form 2525, Exceptional Family Member Program Cover Sheet, to enhance case management and to track the assistance given to the family.
- Develops service plans when requested by the family. Uses AF Form 2522, Family Advocacy Program Intake, to collect demographic data on all family members.
- Supports the development of programs to meet the needs of families receiving EFMP services.
- Help sponsors obtain medical, dental, and educational diagnostic and prognostic statements required for reassignments, deferments, and other EFMP actions as outlined in AFI 36-2110, Assignments.
- Encourages sponsors to keep educational and MRS documentation current in personnel, medical, and educational records.
- Monitors Air Force, Department of Defense, and other Federal and civilian agencies responsible for implementing the FAP.

- Identifies trends and at-risk groups requiring prevention services.
- Helps to identify local agencies that can furnish EFMP services.
- Ensures completion of ERMP files and forms including AF Form 1818, Air Force Exceptional Family Member Program Semiannual Report, RCS: HAF-SGP(Q)7138. AF Form 1818 will be completed semiannually. A copy is sent to arrive at HQ AFMOA/SGPS no later than 21 April for the reporting period 1 October to 31 March, and 21 October for the period 1 April to 30 September. One copy is kept in the file and one copy is sent to the applicable MCFAPM if required.
This report is designated emergency status code C3. Continue reporting during emergency conditions, delayed precedence. Submit data requirements as prescribed, but they may be delayed to allow the submission of higher precedence reports. Submit by non-electronic means, if possible.

- Responds quickly to dependent relocation, reassignment, and deferment requests by providing information about the availability of local services.
- Ensures prompt processing of AF Form 1466, and AF Form 1466A, Request for Family Member Educational Information.
- Coordinates overseas assignments for Department of Defense civilian employees who have exceptional family members.

3.3. Provision of Medically Related Services (MRS): Educationally handicapped children of military members must be identified. Members of the military who have children with special educational needs cannot receive approval for government travel until their children have their educational and medical service needs determined. Provisions of this paragraph do not apply to children attending schools operated by the Department of Defense within CONUS or to children attending non-DoDDS schools outside the United States when they are not placed in those schools by DoDDS. (See DoDIs 1010.13, Provision of Medically Related Services to Children Receiving or Eligible to Receive Special Education in DoD Dependent Schools Outside the United States, August 28, 1986, with Change 1, DoDI 1342.12, Education of Handicapped Children in DoDDS, December 17, 1981, and the FAP Standards for more information.)

3.4. Monitoring the Provision of MRS: The Secretary of the Air Force (or designee):
- Provides travel funding and support for monitoring team members from the Air Force.
- Provides technical assistance and logistical support to monitoring teams during monitoring visits to facilities for which the Air Force is responsible.

- Cooperates with monitoring teams, including making all pertinent records available to the teams.
- Monitors facilities under Air Force jurisdiction that provide related medical services, using procedures consistent with DODI 1342.14, enclosure 2, and FAP Standards.
Chapter 4

DISPOSITION OF PERSONNEL

4.1. Special Duty: FAP involvement, by itself, does not require any duty restriction. For information about how to assign personnel receiving FAP assistance while performing duties requiring either the Personnel Reliability Program, security clearance, access to classified information, or unescorted entry into restricted areas, refer to AFI 36-2104, Nuclear Weapons Personnel Reliability, and AFI 31-501, Personal Security Program Management.

4.2. Review of Duty Assignment: Commanders must review the duty assignment status of all military members whose current duties may make it difficult for them to receive family maltreatment or services for special needs family members. Military member considered fit for duty may continue in their primary duty or control AFSC while involved in FAP treatment, unless precluded under AFI 36-2101, Military Personnel Classification Policy. If precluded, the commander may assign members under their secondary or tertiary Air Force Specialty Code (AFSC) during the FAP intervention process.

4.3. Promotion and Retention of Personnel: A member’s entry into the FAP will not be the sole basis for denying or withholding promotion or retention.

4.4. Assignment Availability:

4.4.1. EFMP Assignments: All Air Force members who want their family members to accompany them to an assignment outside the CONUS, and all Air Force members with Assignment Limitation Code Q who want their family members to go with them to any assignment, participate in a screening process according to AFPD 24-1, Personnel Movement, AFI 24-101, Passenger Travel, and AFI 36-2102, Preparation of Personnel Selected for Relocation-Base Level Procedures, to determine if any exceptional medical or educational needs exist. Medical and educational personnel differentiate between exceptional needs of a general medical nature and those that require MRS to enable children to benefit from special education.

4.4.2. Family Maltreatment: Members of the military receiving treatment for family maltreatment who are sufficiently emotionally, psychologically, and physiologically stable can be assigned to any location that offers appropriate services. If maltreatment occurs in a family with Permanent Change of Station (PCS) orders, the unit commander suspends the assignment until evaluations are completed to ensure continuity of care at the gaining base.
Chapter 5

CIVILIAN STAFFING

5.1. Civilian Family Advocacy Staff: The FAO hires and supervises civilian family advocacy staff. See the FAP Standards for a list of civilian staff duties and responsibilities. HQ AFMOA/SGPS manages the authorization and funding of these positions. The resources for these positions come from a special congressional authorization to prevent and treat family maltreatment in the military. The local civilian personnel office classifies these positions and provides staffing support.

5.2. HQ AFMOA/SGPS-Funded Civilian Employees: Civilian employees whose positions are funded by HQ AFMOA/SGPS cannot serve as the FAO, alternate FAO, EFMPO, or alternate EFMPO. These personnel cannot participate in mental health "on-call" rosters, as their duties are restricted to child and spouse abuse prevention and intervention.

5.3. Limitations on Civilian Independent Providers of Clinical Services: Only the Family Advocacy Treatment Manager (FATM) and FAIS have status as independent providers of clinical services. Only they may independently start, change, or end treatment or provide any other independent clinical service.

5.4. Productivity Accountability: Because of the nature of FAP cases and duties, AFMOA/SGPS-funded civilian FAP staff do not need to comply with Medical Treatment Facility mental health workload factors (e.g., Position Requirement Integrated Specialty Model - PRISM). Any patient count generated by them, however, may be credited to the MTF.

5.5. Limitations on New Civilian Employees: Until new civilian employees successfully complete a background screening according to PL 101-647, Crime Control Act of 1990, they work only with minor clients (less than 18 years of age) under direct "line-of-sight" supervision by a military officer or civilian whose background screening has been successfully completed.

Terms

FAP Standards—Specific guidance provided by HQ AFMOA/SGPS to provide detailed directions for implementation of the Family Advocacy Program within the USAF.

Maltreatment—A general term encompassing child abuse or neglect and spouse abuse or neglect.

Outreach—Activities in support of maltreatment prevention. Usually provided by the Outreach Program Manager and take the form of primary and secondary prevention activities. Does not include tertiary prevention (usually referred to as "treatment").

Prevention—Activities with and for families undertaken prior to the report of abuse. May be primary prevention (activities for all families) or secondary prevention (activities for families identified to be at risk for maltreatment).

Treatment—Direct services to families identified as experiencing maltreatment. Also called "tertiary prevention" in some references.

Substantiated—The status of a child or spouse maltreatment report or "case." This term is a social, rather than legal, definition and means the "preponderance of evidence" in a report or case indicates the abuse did occur.

Unsubstantiated—The status of a child or spouse maltreatment case wherein the "preponderance of the evidence" does NOT indicate abuse occurred.
